COTTON MARKETS

Market Sags Moderately and Then Recovers-Weather Better and Spots Dull.

Wednesday afternoon, March 19. Weakness prevailed in the cotton Weakness prevailed in the cotion market today and prices dipped moderately without meeting much resistance until in the early afternoon, when limited support caused recovery of most of the decline. There was relatively more strength in the May position than in July, perhaps reflecting the feeling as to spots. Circulation of notices for 1,000 bales in New Orieans caused a sharp dip in oid March down there, with some sympathetic easiness in the sharp dip in oid March down there, with some sympathetic casiness in the rest of the list, but this was not regarded as very significant. There was little sign of activity in the actual and the firmness in dry goods fails to stimulate buying by the spinners in this country, while those on the other side seem to have pienty of reason for staying out of the market.

Better weather was a factor, while the professionals apparently are not disposed yet to fear much the contemplated reduction in acreage. The belt had no rain during the past 24 hours and conditions in Texas are reported quite favorable for work and advices say that it is being pushed. In other sections there was also little about which to complain although there is much delay to be overcome. It remains to be seen how well this can be done. However, the bears in the market gook advantage of the improvement in weather and made was of it. The fact that torisorrow morning at the opening there will be issued the final census signing report also tended to play into, the hands of the crowd depressing prices. It is expected to come in the neighborhood of 12,000,080 bales, excitating linters, which would compare with a final report last sension of 11,248,342 and with 11,363,915 two years ago. To come as high as the bears seem to expect would mean a very heavy ginning for the period, as the previous report showed only 11,-681,000-bales durined out. The largest amount for the period in secent years was 983,000 bales in 1215, but the average is much less than that.

Liverpool was nonowhat irregular, but did not offer bulls much encouragement. Finals were quiet and ateady at a net loss of 1 to 27 points. Spots were marked down 13 points, good midding to 16,18d, with tales 2,000 bales, including 2,700 American. Receipts for the day were 5,000 bales, including to 16,18d, with tales 2,000 bales, including to 16,18d, with tales 2,000 bales, including 5,700 American. Receipts for the day were 5,000 bales, including to 16,18d, with tales 2,000 bales in 1916 buying for B buying for British account in this country.

Opening prices showed little change and trading was light and without special feature. Old May opened 2 points up, at 12.75c, dipped to 23.50c and then recovered to 23.75c, only to later drop to 23.40c, which proved bottom. Slight recovery followed. New May started at 24.30c, dipped to 34.07c, and than sold back to 24.23c before dipping again to 24.01c. Covering by shorts sent the prices back up to the previous close. The July position, however, failed to show quite the strength that May did and most of the time was relatively weaker than May.

It was claimed that some of the selimic came from the South, while some

There was slight railies toward the middle of the morning on covering, but the market quickly weakened again under increased Southern sailing, reports of labor trouble among British coal miners, and a disposition to even up long contracts before the publication of census giming figures tomorrow. The more active old style months sold 20 to 40 points net lower and new style contracts 21 to 45 points under last night's closing figures, with May touching 24.61c, and October 20.85c.

There was a better demand around the 24-cent level for new style May contracts, but the buying tapered off to a rally of 15 or 20 points and the market was very quiet during the middle of the afternoon. New style May ruled around $4.16c and October 21.03c, or about 14 to 27 points net lower.

NEW ORLEANS, March 19.—Better weather over the helt had a bearish effect on cotton today Momentarily on the opching new contracts were 4 to 5 points higher, but at the end of the first half hour of trading they were 19 to 12 points under the closing of yesterday. Stock Market Develops Some Strength After Being Hesitant at Opening.

NEW YORK, March 19.—The stock market was hesitant at the opening of today's trading, but soon developed a firmer tone under lead of shippings which featured yesterday's stronger shares. Marine preferred rose almost 2 points in the first half hour and Atlantic Guif 2 points. Gains extending from fractions to 2 points were scored by American Sugar, Industrial Alcohol, Distillers, Allis-Chaimers and fertilizers. Motors and allied specialties tended moderately lower; also tobaccos, leathers and metals.

Haldwin Locomotive and Mexican Petroleum were offered at concessions of one to two points at midday, but otherwise the advance was fully sustained. Marine preferred and American Sugar increased their gains and minor equipments strengthened, while Kelly Springfield rebounded five points.

Texas Oil Royalties—To Investors and Brokers

219 Falls Bldg.

We control some of the best dif royalties in the Comanche county field, immediately adjoining the tracts where the Giant Duke and Knowles wells are drilled. These wells came in from 5,000 to 8,000 barrels per day. Our first syndicate is paying 30% monthly to its members with only one well drilled. We believe these properties we are now syndicating are of equal value.

This is a high-class legitimate proposition. Our booklet gives full details to those interested. If you wish to secure some interest in the greatest oil field in the world our proposition will interest you.

We invite correspondence from investors wishing a safe-oil investment and legitimate brokers who can handle a high-class proposition.
